UCHS ANNUAL AWARDS

By Mark Wagenfeld, UCHS Board Member

A mansion and 25-unit condominium, restored flagstone sidewalks, two front porches and a virtual tour of West Philadelphia's architectural treasures were honored this year as the University City Historical Society presented its annual awards at its Valentine's Awards Tea on Sunday, February 10, 2008.

Campus Apartments received an Outstanding Preservation Award for its conversion of the former Penn offices and adjoining c. 1904 French Renaissance mansion, designed by Horace Trumbauer, at 4200 Pine Street.

UCHS said the developers had not compromised the original architectural details of the site as they converted the offices into living units. Special thanks also went to project architects Kevin Angstadt and Tim Peters of Qb3, a five-year-old architectural firm. All but two of the 25 units have been sold so far, said Matt Kelly, the project manager for Campus Apartments. The mansion is also listed for sale.

Neighbors on the 200 block of St. Marks Square were honored for joining forces to salvage slate flagstones that were being ripped up along Walnut Street and stocking them until they could be re-laid, taking the place of missing and broken flagstones on both sides of St. Marks. "We had all but one or two (neighbors) participate," said one of the organizers, John Hanson, who accepted the award for the block. "It was a huge block effort and we're really happy."

At 4516 Locust Street, the UCHS awarded Jet Foncannon and Richard Rasmindarya an Out- standing Preservation Award for the rebuilding, restoration and painting of their porch. The award cited "special attention paid to highlighting the original architectural details," with thanks going to the builder,

Greg Schopp, of Schoppworks, Inc. "We restored it as it was in 1906 - with one exception," said Foncannon. "The ceilings in that time were painted sky blue. We didn't like that look, so we went with varnish."

A preservation award for a restored exterior also went to Jon Wagner and Julie Marquart, owners of 4626 Cedar Avenue. They rebuilt their porch and restored the bay window. "I saw that house in its early condition," said UCHS president Belynda Stewart, in saluting the couple for their efforts. "You've done a great job."

Joseph Minardi, a photographer/graphic designer from South Philadelphia, was honored with a Preservation Initiative Award for "West Philadelphia, Streetcar Suburb," a photo essay on PhillySkyLine, <http://phillyskyline.com/photo/joeminardi/streetcarsuburb/> that Minardi narrated at the awards event. The society said the images "vividly remind us of the architectural and landscape riches which continue to surround us and are critical to our quality of life.” It called the essay, which Minardi is hoping to publish in book form, a “major contribution to the appreciation of the architectural heritage of University City.”

The awards were presented at The Castle, the bed and breakfast and home of Ellie and Nick Cernansky, at 930 S. 48th St. The awards committee was made up of society vice president Stephen Wagner and board members Mo Phillips and Greg Olivieri.

The society also recognized many West Philadelphia blocks and addresses as “2007 Gifts & Green Gifts to the Street,” for projects including historically sensitive exterior repairs, restorations, multi-colored paint schemes and greening improvements. These are itemized in this newsletter.

AN ODYSSEY TO A NEW SPACE

Paul Kuhn
& Jared Reed,
Curio Theatre

Curio Theatre Company presents The Odyssey by Homer in a world premiere adaptation by Jared Reed. Curio veteran Jennifer Summerfield (Catch-22, The Green Bird) joins Artistic Directors Paul Kuhn and Jared Reed to dramatically present this classic work at the Calvary Center February 21 to March 15, 2008

The Odyssey tells the tale of Odysseus’ ill-fated journey home after the end of the Trojan War. This fast-paced spoken-word performance tells an exciting and moving story of heroism, enduring love, reunion, and reconciliation, as audiences relive the journey of a man seeking to reclaim his life after war. Curio adapted and performed The Iliad in 2002, dubbed “a great story, well told” by the Philadelphia Inquirer and toured to numerous venues, including the University of Oxford, UK where their performances were sold out. They continue with its sequel in the same spirit, as a dramatic recitation accompanied by a subtle soundscape created by the actors themselves. After more than 2500 years, this work remains poignantly relevant and personally illuminating.

This production will be Curio’s first in their new space at the Calvary Center, 48th & Baltimore Avenue – the awe-inspiring sanctuary of the Church, unused for 25 years, and now in restoration. Curio is working with the Calvary Center to fully transform the sanctuary, complete with 25 foot Tiffany stained glass windows, into a professional theater venue in West Philadelphia. The Odyssey will be performed in the space ‘as is’ while additional funds are raised to complete the renovations. This is an opportunity to see this groundbreaking company in a truly amazing setting, and a chance to share in their most exciting phase of growth and development to date.

Check out www.curiotheatre.org or call (215) 525-1350 for details and ticket sales. This is the last week to check out the historic drama and dream of others in the future in the “new space.”

OLD HOUSE FAIR

The 2008 Old House Fair, one of the longest running house restoration-themed fairs on the East Coast, will take place on Saturday, March 22, 2008, from 9 am to 5 pm. Presented by the Preservation Alliance for Greater Philadelphia, the Fair will be held at the Germantown Friends School, located at 31 West Coulter Street. General admission is $10. Tickets may be purchased online at www.preservationalliance.com, or at the door.

Designed to connect owners of older and historic homes who are interested in repairs, major restoration, landscaping, or interior design, with the appropriate professional resources, the 2008 Old House Fair will provide attendees a special opportunity to directly and freely interact with business and trade professionals operating in the greater Philadelphia metropolitan region.

The Fair will feature 75 booths of professional vendors, consultants & specialists, along with a select group of local and state preservation and design organizations.

Professionals will offer hands-on demonstrations pertaining to their skills, services or products throughout the day in a centrally designated demonstration area. In addition to demonstrations, a variety of presentations relating to maintenance and restoration of older houses will be offered by area specialists.

Free 15-minute consultations with old house professionals will be offered to participants at the “ASK THE EXPERTS” booth. John Crosby Freeman, “The Color Doctor”, featured in The Old House Journal, will also be offering free 15-minute exterior paint consultations throughout the day. The “2008 Awards of Recognition” will be presented to private homeowners who have shown exemplary stewardship in historic preservation through renovation and maintenance of their property.

For more information, please contact Patrick Hauck at 215.546.1146 ext.4 or visit: www.preservationalliance.com.

PARTY FOR THE PARK

Each spring, the University City community comes together for a very important cause: raising funds to support the maintenance of Clark Park. With its 300 trees, much-used new playground, beloved statue of Charles Dickens and Little Nell and the historic Gettysburg Stone, this nine acre green space is the largest park in the neighborhood, the site of countless festivals and celebrations, a popular farmers’ market, a youth soccer league, and so much more.

The Party for the Park will be held just outside Clark Park at the University of the Sciences in Philadelphia, and will take place on Thursday, May 8 from 5:00 to 9:00 PM. The “Tropical Sunset” theme will have us enjoying fruity drinks on an imaginary beach, so bring your shades and your suntan oil!

For the past eight years, proceeds from the Party have vastly improved the quality of Clark Park, our children’s lives, and our neighborhood. Proceeds pay for supplemental park maintenance: mowing grass, edging walkways, weeding, fertilizing, mulching trees, emptying trash cans, and seasonal clean-ups.

The annual Party for the Park is an opportunity for neighbors to come together; it’s a festive evening for a very good cause. The funds we raise are needed to supplement the maintenance provided by the City of Philadelphia. Look for our official announcement soon, both in electronic form and on paper in your mailbox!
